Rose-Neath Funeral Homes, Crematorium and Cemeteries remains committed and prepared to safely care for the families we serve during the novel coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic. In order to best serve our families, and out of an abundance of caution, the following changes have been implemented in compliance with the directives of federal, state and local recommendations. These guidelines are subject to change as conditions warrant, with or without notice.

As always, each family will be addressed with dignity and respect. Some of the changes you may expect while under our care are as follows:

- The arrangement conference should be limited to as few people as possible in the arrangement office with telephone and email being used whenever possible.
- Visitations and funeral services within our funeral homes will be limited to gatherings not to exceed 10 people as long as proper social distancing can be maintained.
- Graveside services will continue at this time for gatherings not to exceed 10 people. However, this is subject to your local cemetery guidelines and subject to change.
- The scheduling of services outside the funeral home will be at the discretion of the church and clergy.
- The use of funeral limousines will be discontinued at this time.
- No outside food or beverage will be allowed within the funeral homes.

Condolences may be sent through our online website at www.rose-neath.com.

We understand these changes may be difficult, but the safety of the families we serve is our number one concern during these challenging times.

Please know, we stand ready to serve and appreciate your trust.

Respectfully,

Shehee Family and the Staff of Rose-Neath Funeral Homes.
